

Current Severe Threat for Today and Tonight

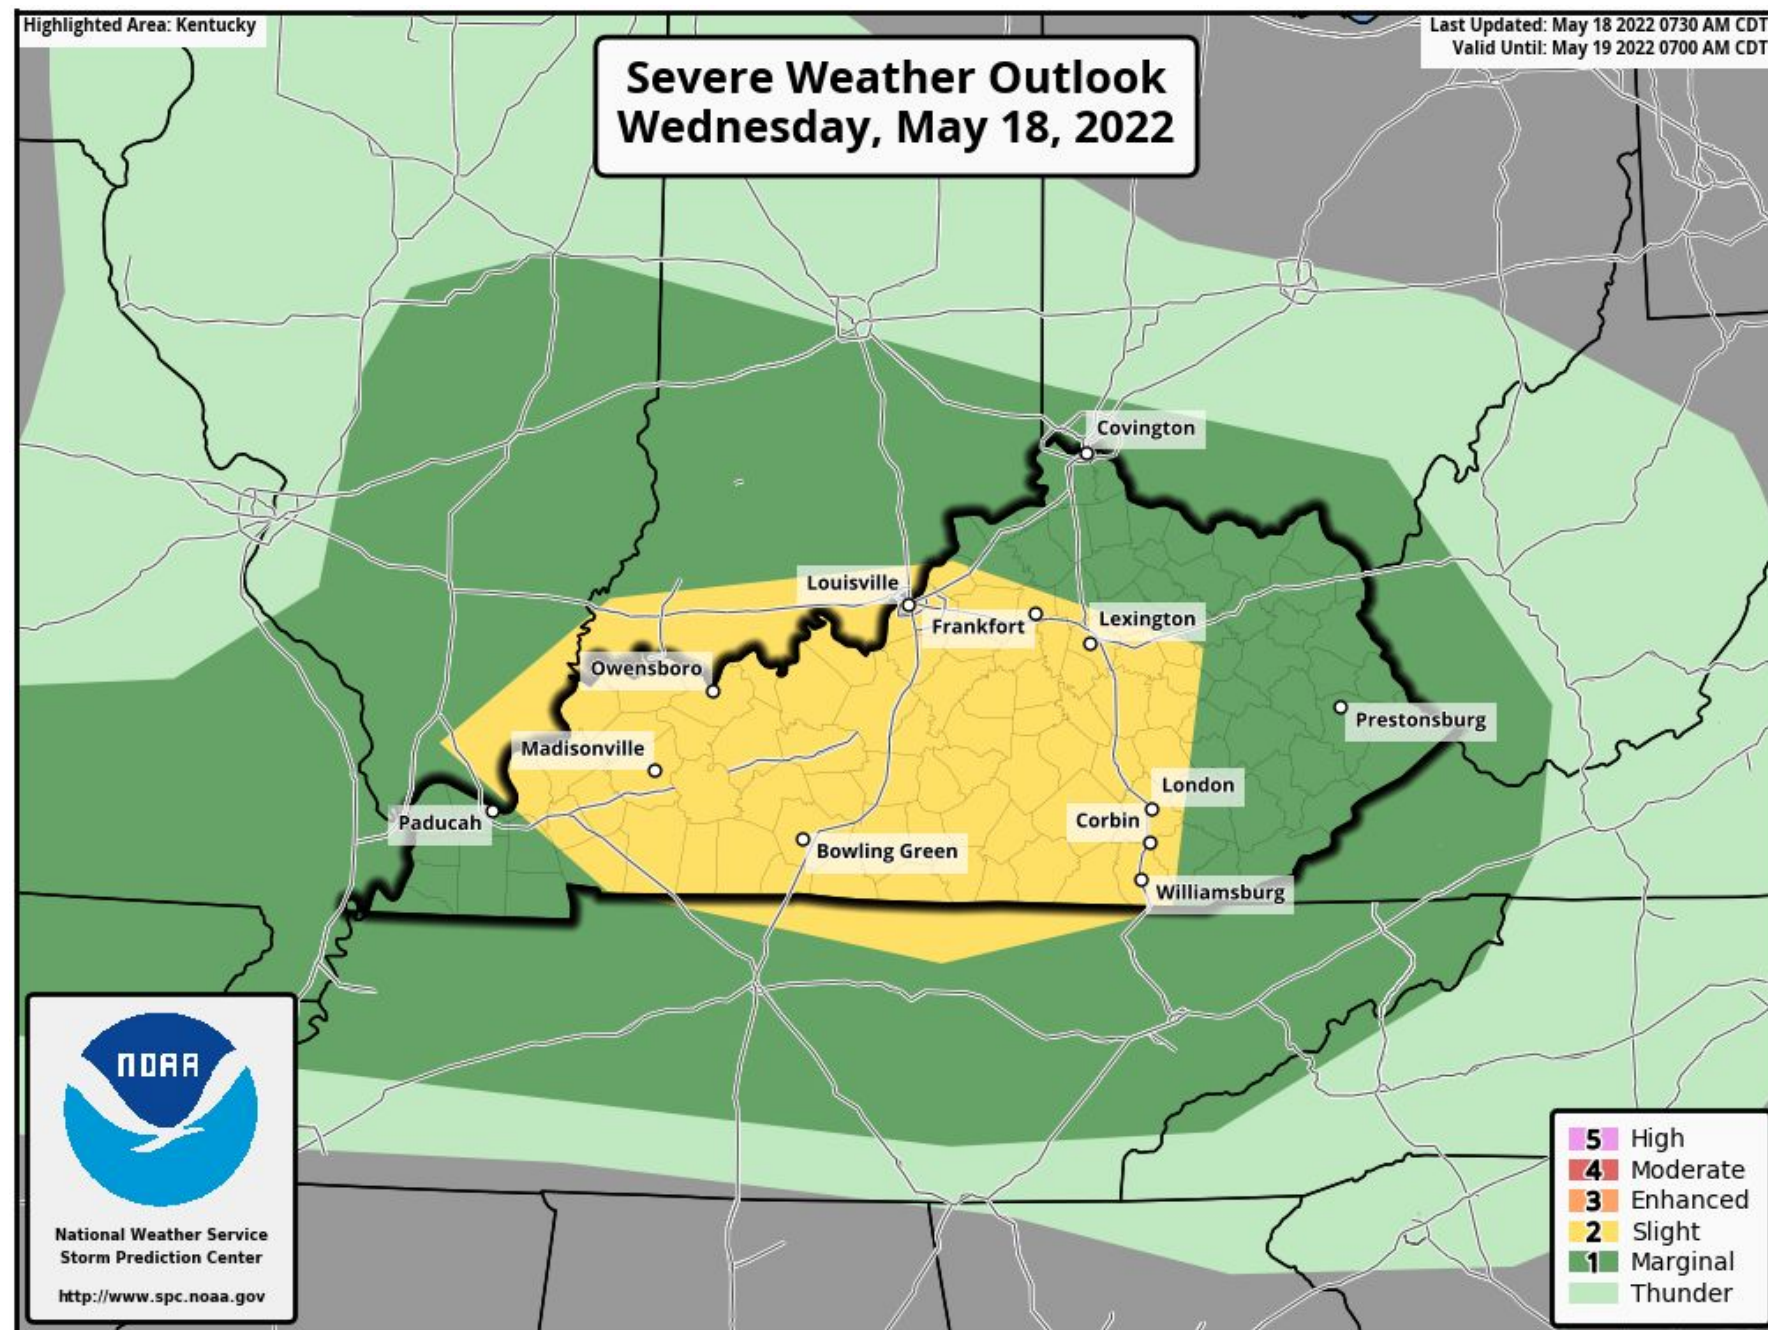

May 18, 2022
11:22 AM

Key Messages:

- Strong to severe storms will be possible today.
- Storms are expected to develop later this afternoon and continue into the night.
- Damaging winds, large hail and isolated tornadoes will be possible.

Next Scheduled Briefing:

- This afternoon or as needed

National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration
U.S. Department of Commerce

National Weather Service
Jackson, Kentucky

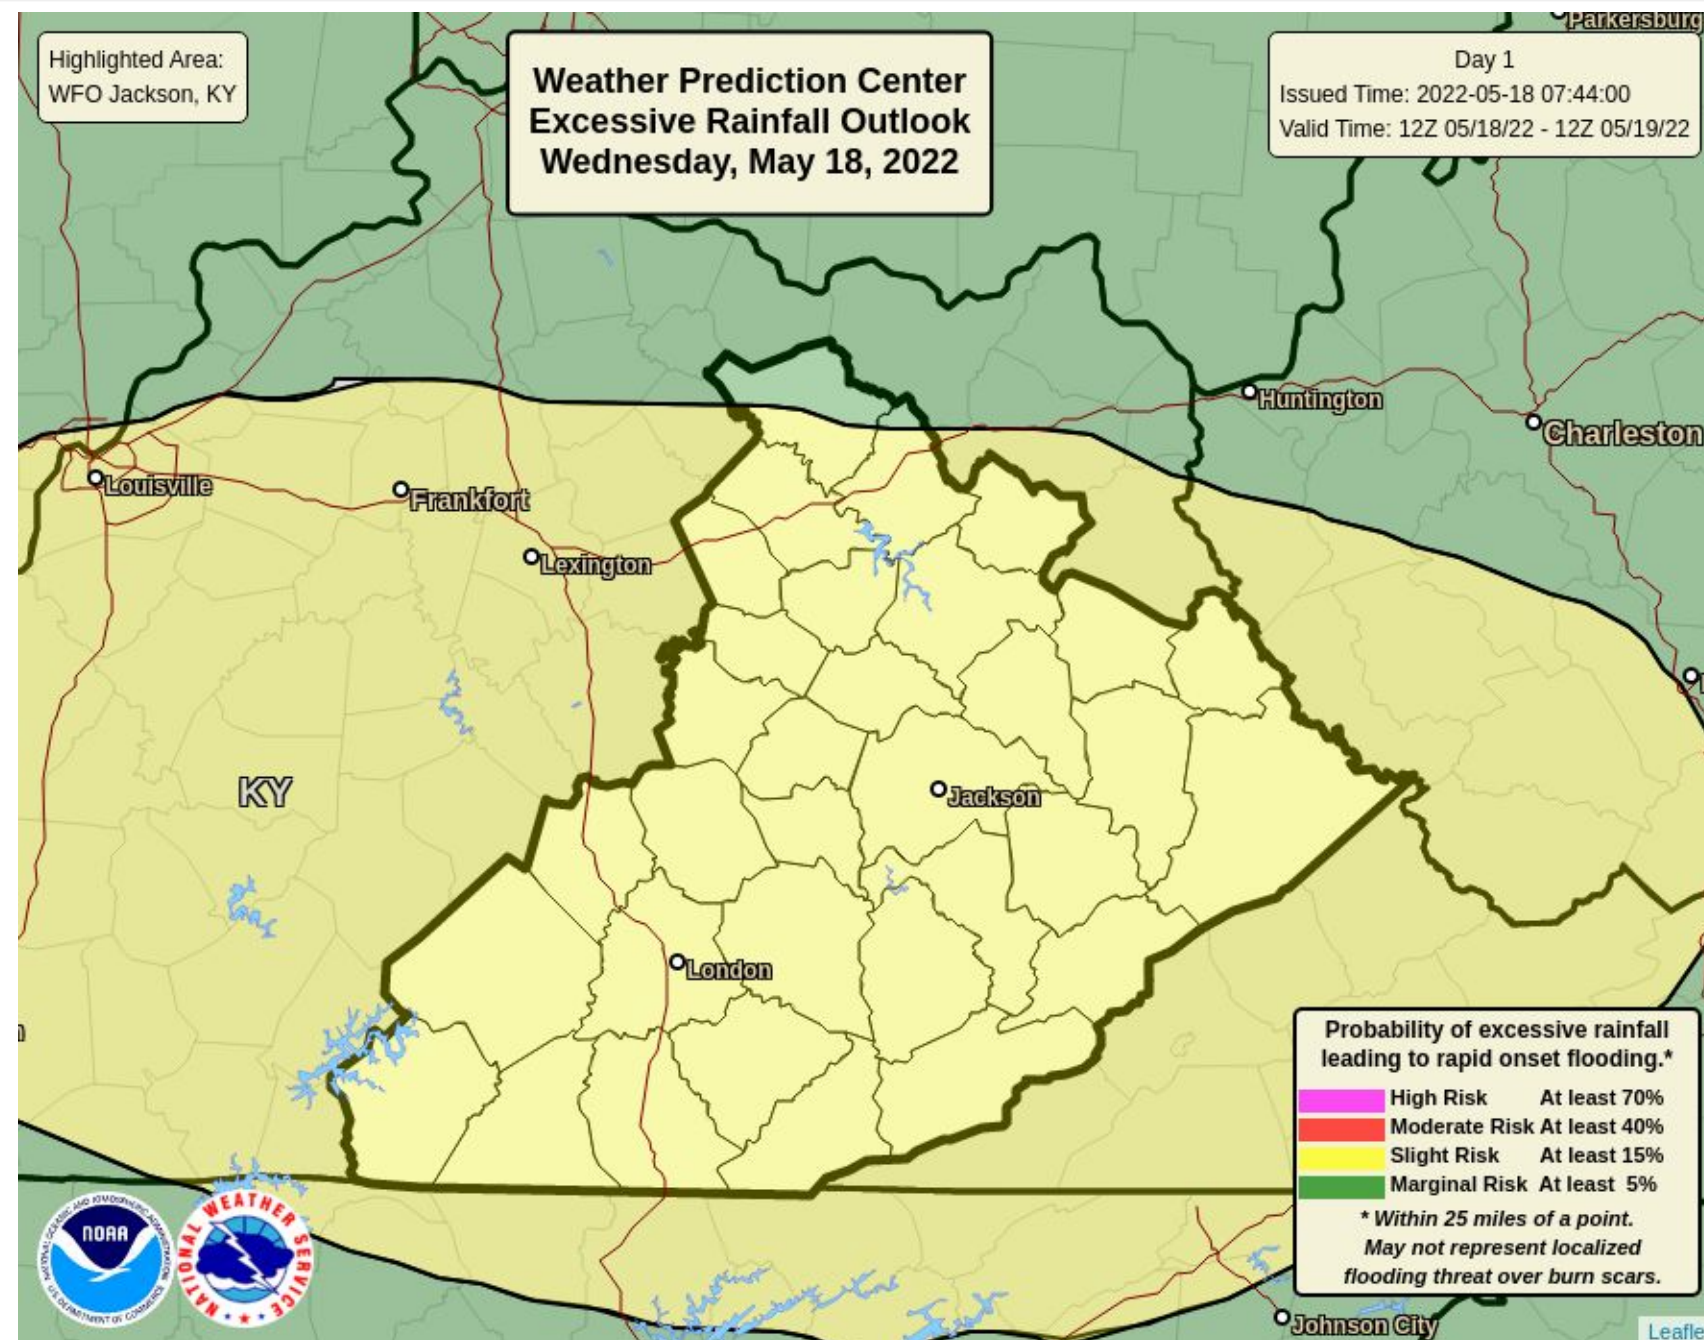

Current Flooding Threat for Today and Tonight

May 18, 2022
11:22 AM

Key Messages

- Strong to severe thunderstorms could bring increased rainfall across the area this afternoon into tonight.
- Training thunderstorms (storms that pass over the same location repeatedly) could produce flash flooding especially in flood prone areas.

Severe Weather can escalate quickly.

While the possibility of tornadoes can be forecast ahead of time, they can form in minutes, day or night. Will you be prepared?

Set up a way to get weather warnings any time of day

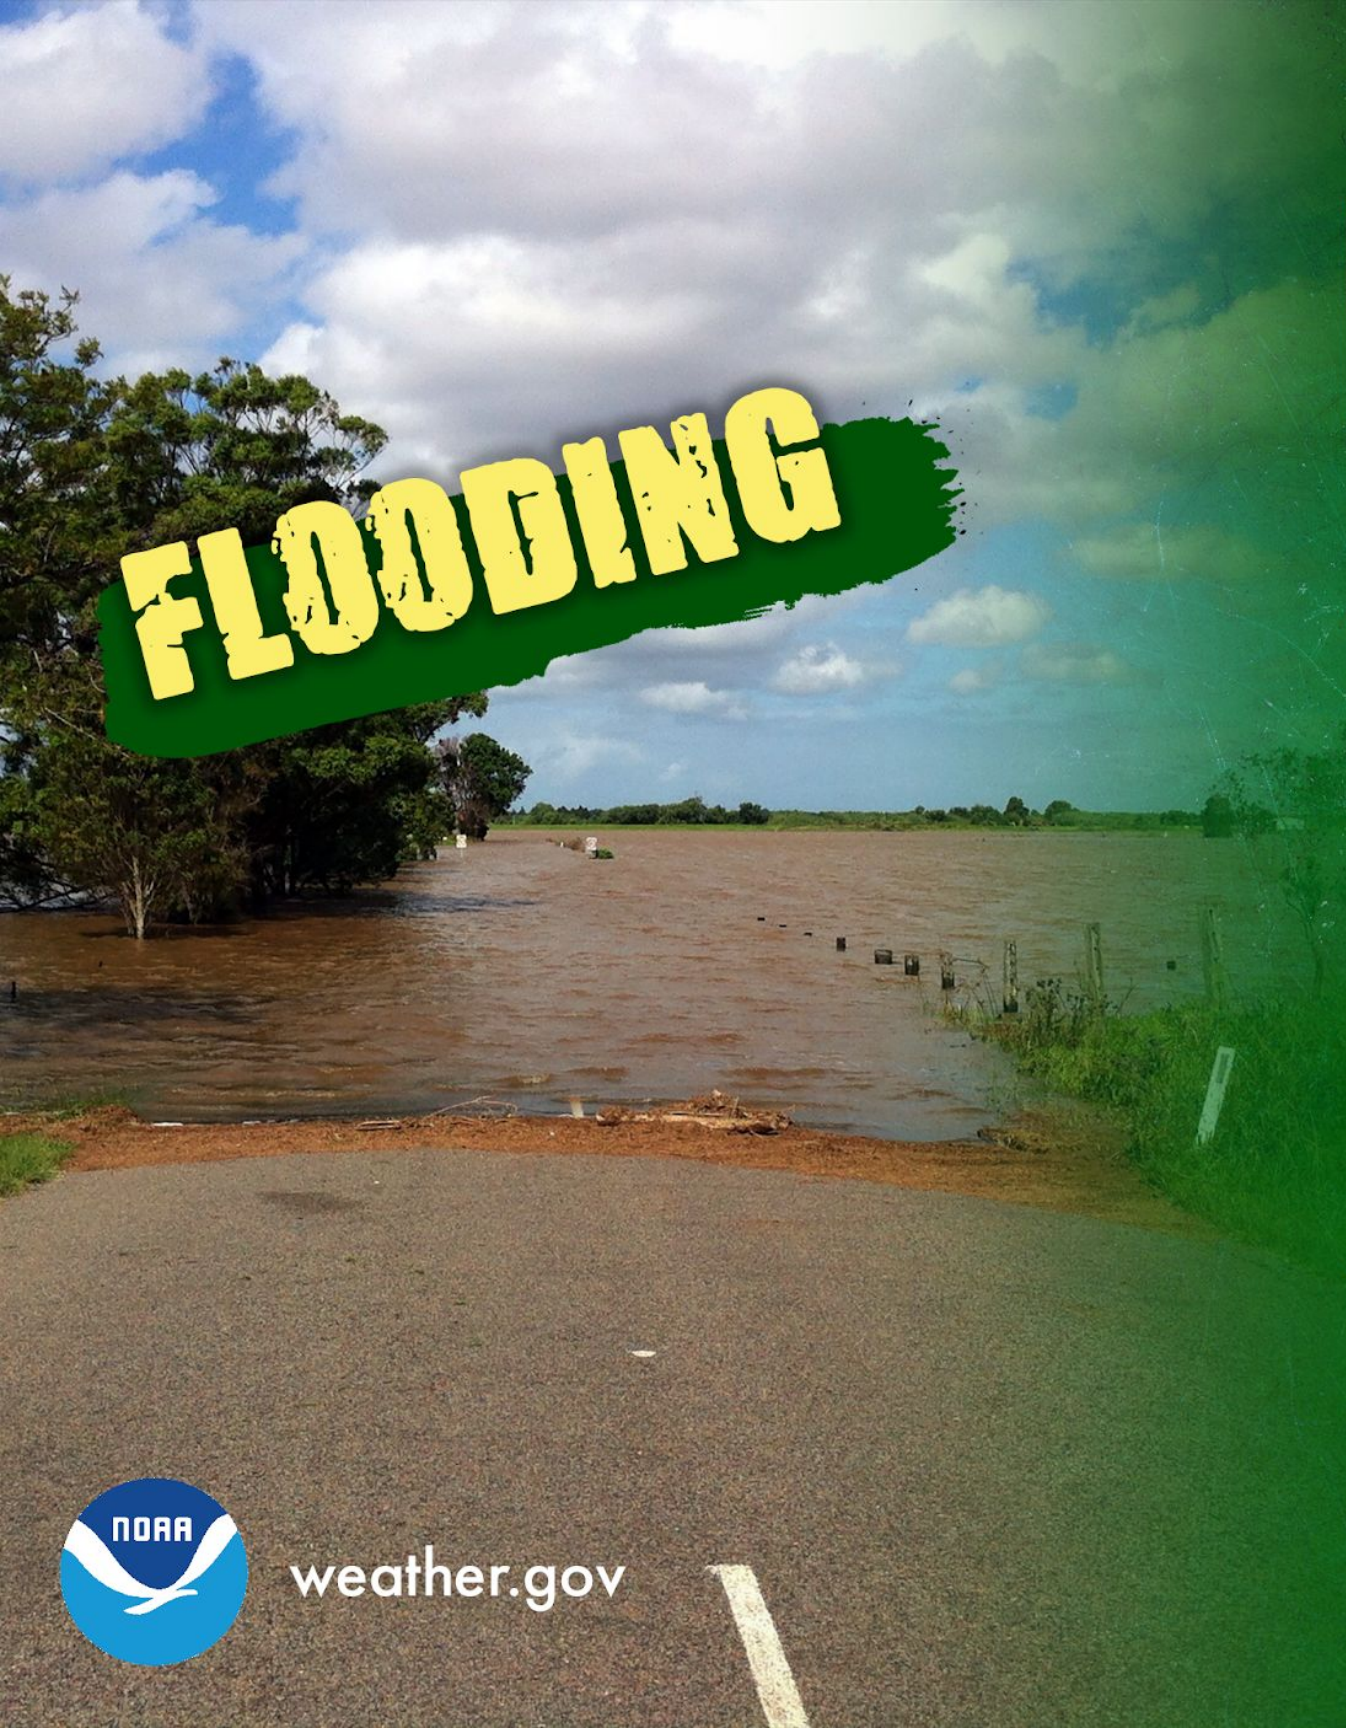

When alerted to a tornado, quickly get to a storm shelter or basement

If underground shelter isn't available, get to an interior hall away from windows

weather.gov

Small Decisions can have a BIG IMPACT.

- Turn around and don't drive through a flooded roadway
 - Don't drive around barricades
 - Delay travel until conditions improve
-

weather.gov

Don't let a bad decision be your last.